

New Plan For Steel Strike Settlement Is Reported Near

Washington, Feb. 1 (AP)—President Truman today summoned the steel fact finding board and Price Administrator Chester Bowles to the White House amid reports that the administration is ready with a new proposition for settling the steel strike.

The White House announced that the fact finding board had been called to a 4 p. m. conference with Mr. Truman.

An OPA official said that Bowles had been asked to cut short a vacation in South Carolina and return to the capital immediately. He was expected late tonight or early tomorrow.

Bowles, who reportedly favors a $2.50 ton increase in steel prices, had intended to stay in South Carolina until Sunday or Monday.

The new plan for ending the 12-day-old steel walkout was reported in the hands of top level White House advisors, but federal seizure of the industry was said not to be involved as yet.

Russia Calls British Troops "Peace Threat"

London, Feb. 1 (AP)—Russia told the United Nations today that British troops in Greece were endangering international peace, and Britain's Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin immediately demanded that the security council give a "yes or no" verdict on the charge.

Russia, through Vice Commissar Andrei Vishinsky, argued for an hour before the council that British forces were "contributing to disorder" in Greece. He said a "white terror" existed in that country, and said the Soviet Union demanded quick and unconditional withdrawal of the troops.

Bevin responded that the real "danger to the peace of the world" today was the "incessant propaganda from Moscow with no sign of friendship."

"This incessant suspicion is the danger," Bevin asserted. "I ask for a straight verdict—have we been endangering the peace?"

Opening the council's consideration of Russia's demand for action on the Greek situation, Vice Commissar Vishinsky declared: "The horrors perpetrated today in Greece, the white terror, are widely known to everyone. It is not necessary to prove them here."

France Asks Conviction Of 22 Nazis

Nuernberg, Feb. 1 (AP)—The French prosecution gave an itemized account today of charges against the 22 former Nazi leaders on trial before the international military tribunal, and urged that all defendants be convicted of violating the rules of war.

French attorneys also asserted that the Nazi design for living called for the axis rule of all Europe and Africa, and the division of the world into four neatly packaged zones.

French Assistant Prosecutor Charles Dubost accused each of the defendants of either direct or indirect responsibility for assassinations and other inhuman acts.

He demanded the conviction of: Hermann Goering, Wilhelm Keitel and Alfred Jodl for the seizure and execution of hostages.

Keitel, Jodl, Ernst Kaltenbrunner, Martin Bormann and Joachim von Ribbentrop for the slaughter of innocent civilians and for ordering the torture of prisoners.

"Inspiring Lynchings"

Goering, Keitel, Jodl, Albert Speer and Fritz Sauckel for exposing war prisoners to undue risks.

Goering, Keitel, Jodl, Kaltenbrunner and Bormann for inspiring the lynching of allied airmen and commandos and for provoking the terrorist assassination or slow extermination of certain war prisoners.

Keitel for ordering the deportation of innocent civilians.

Jodl for ordering the arrest of Jews in Denmark for deportation.

Hans Frank, Alfred Rosenberg, Julius Streicher, Baldur von Schirach, Sauckel, Wilhelm Frick and Rudolf Hess for attempting to exterminate Jewish populations.

Goering for establishing concentration camps, tolerating or approving pseudo-scientific experiments which nearly always resulted in death for the human guinea pigs, and employing slave labor under inhuman conditions in Luftwaffe factories.

Speer for inhuman labor policies.

DELLINGER WINS IN SUIT FOR CAR CRASH DAMAGES

Trial of cases in the January term of court came to an end Thursday afternoon at 4:55 o'clock when the jury sitting in the last case, a damage action, brought by Irving Bierer, East Middle street, against Monroe Dellinger, North Stratton street, brought in a verdict in favor of the defendant, Dellinger.

Sentence court will be held Saturday.

The jury appended the line "each one to pay his own costs" to the decision, but the court ordered the line stricken from the verdict due to the fact that in civil suits the costs must be paid by the person losing the case.

While the Dellinger-Bierer case was being tried the jury in the action in replevin brought by George Wagaman, Emmitsburg, against Lawrence Rexroth, Littlestown R. 4, after three attempts brought in a verdict in favor of Wagaman in which a value was set on livestock he is said to have bought and granted him damages for the "unlawful detention" of his livestock.

Write Three Verdicts

The Wagaman jury went out at 11:30 o'clock Thursday morning and returned at 12:45 p. m. sealing its verdict for the court. At 1:30 the court opened the sealed decision which read merely: "We find in favor of the plaintiff." Explaining that the verdict was "fine as far as it goes," the court sent the jury out again to place a value on the livestock which was the cause of the case and to set damages for the unlawful detention of the animals for a little over 11 months.

A little later the jury was called back during a recess in the Dellinger trial while the court explained what was wanted. The jury was told to decide whether the eight shots and bull had been purchased by Wagaman from Rexroth or whether only the eight shots belonged to Wagaman; the value of the animals which rightfully had been purchased by Wagaman and finally damages amounting to the lawful interest on the value of the animals for the time Rexroth had kept them after Wagaman had called to pick up his lawfully purchased animals.

At 2:45 p. m. the jury came out again and turned in a verdict reading: "Find in favor of George Wagaman for possession of one Holstein bull and eight pigs valued at $113 plus legal interest at 6 per cent."

Suit Result of Collision

The court held that the jury had to figure out its own interest and Foreman R. H. Smith, New Oxford, went into a huddle with the jury to finally arrive at the total value of $118.03 as being the value of the animals and interest.

Wagaman had claimed he purchased the eight shots and bull from Rexroth last February and had paid $100 for them. Then when he went to pick up the livestock a week later, Wagaman claimed, Rexroth would not give him the bull but alleged only the shots had been sold to Wagaman.

The Bierer-Dellinger case grew out of an accident August 3, 1945, when Bierer was attempting to complete a left turn off the Lincoln highway about 4 1/2 miles west of Cashtown and Dellinger, who was following the Bierer car, crashed into the side of the vehicle.

Officer Testifies

The jury took nearly an hour to reach its verdict, starting its deliberations at 4 o'clock and coming back to the court room to announce its findings at 4:55 o'clock.

Dellinger claimed he was driving about 30 to 35 miles an hour behind the Bierer car and that he attempted to pass it after first sounding his horn. As he attempted to pass, Dellinger said, Bierer started his turn. When the cars crashed into each other side by side both were off the Lincoln highway.

Couples Celebrate 40th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. George Irvin, Orrtanna R. D., and Mr. and Mrs. J. Allen Kane, Gettysburg R. 2, celebrated their fortieth wedding anniversary together at the Irvin home on Wednesday evening. Mrs. Kane and Mrs. Irvin are sisters.

The two couples were united in marriage in a double ceremony performed the morning of January 30, 1906, in St. Ignatius Catholic church in Buchanan Valley. The sisters, Laura Kimple Kane and Gertrude Kimple Irvin, are daughters of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kimple of Buchanan Valley.

BLUE AND GRAY BAND REVIVED; TO SEEK FUNDS

Thirty-five members were present at the reorganization meeting of the Gettysburg Blue and Gray band in the engine house, West Middle street Thursday night.

An election was held at which temporary officers were chosen to serve for a 30-day period, after which a permanent ruling group will be elected.

George W. Olinger, a veteran of nearly six years' service in army bands, was elected temporary president of the band. Charles Cook, for many years a bandsman in local and county musical organizations, and in recent years manager of the pre-war Blue and Gray band, was elected to the position of vice president. Paul F. Ecker, former president of the Gettysburg Boys' band at its inception and now employed in the office of a county fruit canning concern, was elected secretary-treasurer.

Board of Managers

A board of managers was appointed which contains both representatives of the citizens of Gettysburg and bands men. William I. Shields, temporarily representing the citizens, was elected chairman of the board. Donald Carver and Harry S. Oyer were also elected to the managerial body. It is expected that this group will be expanded when permanent officers are elected, as interest manifest by Gettysburgians in the reorganization of the band has been unusually favorable.

Mr. Shields and Bandsmen Carver and Oyer will shortly begin a canvass of their respective wards for funds by which the band's reorganization can be successfully accomplished. Mr. Shields is in charge of the second ward. Mr. Carver will canvass the first ward, and the third ward will be solicited by Mr. Oyer.

Master Recommends Divorce Decree

A divorce decree in favor of Mary E. Garner, York Springs R. D., against her husband, Oscar W. Garner, also York Springs R. D., is recommended in the report of the master, Attorney Eugene V. Bullett, filed today in the office of Adams County notary Arthur H. Shields, on the grounds of indignities to the person.

The master in his opinion held that the libellant had failed to prove a charge of cruel and barbarous treatment endangering her life.

The couple was married December 9, 1929, at Harrisburg. Both appeared at the hearing before the master. Mrs. Garner was arrested Wednesday on a surety of the peace charge preferred by her husband, who alleged that she threatened him with a gun when he went after his personal effects. A hearing was held before Justice of the Peace John H. Baschore, and the case adjourned to February 5.

Rescuers Try To Scale Big Peak For Plane, 21 Persons

Elk Mountain, Wyo., Feb. 1 (AP)—Several searchers, including 50 military policemen, girded themselves today for an attempted ascent of snow-covered, 11,125-foot Elk mountain upon whose rough summit a Seattle-to-New York United Air Lines transport plane is believed to have crashed yesterday with 21 persons aboard.

A blizzard last night which forced a search party to turn back within 300 feet of the mountain top had deepened the five foot or more of snow covering the mountain, with 12-foot drifts in places.

United Air Lines officials hoped that a plane could take off from Cheyenne today for a close survey of the peak, 65 miles northwest of Laramie, but they said that uncertain weather might prevent the flight.

This hamlet, within the shadow of the peak itself, was the scene of unthoughtful as military policemen joined sheepherders, ranchers and peace officers in the dangerous ascent up the gaunt mountain slopes.

An investigation will be conducted by Civil Air Administration officials at the scene if reports of the crash are substantiated.

A deep, quarter-mile furrow slashed across the snowy peak convinced aerial searchers yesterday that the plane had struck the mountain top in pre-dawn darkness.

The plane is thought to have crashed 20 minutes after an "all's well" report was received from over Sinclair, Wyo., 35 miles to the west. Aboard the ship were three crew members and 18 passengers, including 12 re-deploying soldiers. The weather in the vicinity was reported "not really bad."

The last regular stop was made at Boise, Idaho, where Mr. and Mrs. George Bender, bound for their home in Sheffield, Ill., were taken aboard. The Benders were married last Monday at Twin Falls, Idaho.

The ship's captain was Walter P. Briggs, 44, a UAL pilot for nearly 10 years. The first officer was Harry N. Atlas, who finished his course at Denver's UAL flight school only a few weeks ago, and the stewardess, Dorothy Carter, 22, had been employed by UAL a year. The three lived in Portland, Ore., although Atlas was a former Seattle, Wash., resident and Miss Carter was from La Grande, Ore.

BLACK WALNUT SCOUTS TO DINE AT BIGLERVILLE

The Black Walnut (Adams county) Boy Scout district today was proceeding with plans for what it hopes will be the biggest parents and sons party ever held by scouts in this area.

Members of the district committee met Thursday night at Cashtown with William Dentler, chairman of the party committee, to discuss the arrangements for the affair to be held in the Biglerville auditorium the evening of February 11 at 7:30 o'clock.

Titled a "Pot-Luck Dinner," the affair is designed to bring together the scouts, their parents, and friends in one large gathering to honor the scoutmasters who have given much time and effort to scouting. And at the same time increase interest in scouting throughout the district.

Invite Girl Scouts

The two Girl Scout troops at Gettysburg will be invited as special guests for the affair as will the burghesses of Arendtsville, Biglerville and Gettysburg.

Nine scout troops and one cub pack are taking part in the joint program. In other sections of the United States, Snead Clift, district field executive, said at Thursday's committee meeting, upwards of 3,000 parents and friends have attended such pot-luck dinners. The affair will be the first to be held in the York-Adams area.

Committees of mothers are being established in each troop to complete arrangements for the food for the pot-luck dinner, with each troop making its own arrangements for the meal.

Representatives from the Rotary, Lions and Soroptimist clubs of this section of the county will also be invited to attend.

Tilberg Is Toastmaster

George Inskip, Biglerville scoutmaster, will be in charge of the opening and closing ceremonies for the program to be presented at the dinner. Dean W. E. Tilberg, chairman of the Black Walnut district, is scheduled to be toastmaster. Troop 78 of Gettysburg will present a signalling demonstration displaying how doorbells can be used to transmit messages in Morse code and the members of Troop 71, Biglerville, will present a first aid demonstration.

According to present plans, separate tables are to be set up in the auditorium for the members of each troop and their guests. As a result the committee hopes to promote friendly rivalry among the various troops in the attempt to see which troop can make the best showing.

Attending Thursday night's party committee session were Mr. Dentler, Mr. Clift, Martin Slade, Dr. Joseph H. Riley, Bernard Riley, and Richard Codori.

MAJOR HANSON TELLS OF ARMY SCHOOL COURSE

American soldiers in Europe after the conclusion of the European phase of the war had an excellent opportunity to secure additional education, but the rapid deployment of troops out of Europe after the sudden cessation of Japanese hostilities cut short some of the benefits that would have been derived from the program.

Thus Major Robert D. Hanson, son of Dr. and Mrs. Henry W. A. Hanson, college campus, sums up the school program arranged by the Information and Education division of the U. S. Army for peace time study in Europe.

Major Hanson was head of the Information and Education branch in the 80th Division in addition to compiling the history of the division.

Within a short time after the war ended more than 3,000 men of the division were engaged in studies that ranged from advanced postgraduate college work down to learning to read and write.

Schools were set up on battalion, regimental, divisional and corps levels for on the job training and in some occasions separate companies established schools to give the men a chance for additional instruction in courses of their choice. Attendance at the classes was voluntary and the men took their courses during regular duty hours.

Many Study German

Most popular course was German, with auto mechanics and radio repair and operation running as second and third most popular choice.

The instruction was given many times in German schools that were damaged. Germans were hired as instructors in technical courses and as German language teachers in many cases. But most of the teachers were officers and enlisted men of the army who, while few had technical instructions in teaching, were qualified by knowledge to head the classes.

Text books provided the various schools made the job of the teachers simpler. Major Hanson said in pointing out that the amateur instructors did splendid jobs in their chosen tasks.

For the college graduates in the army there were universities in France, England and Scotland where they could take post graduate work. For the farmers there was an agricultural school at Munich. And for the soldier who wanted to take up basic studies in reading and writing there were battalion and regimental schools where such instruction could be obtained, Major Hanson said.

Variety Of Courses

Most of the organizations having specialist establishments became schools. There were courses in cooking instruction, auto mechanics, machine shop operation, barber training, carpentry, radio repair and operation, medical training, clerk training, supply clerk training, driving schools, mail clerking, auto painting, switchboard operation, wireman training, photography, sign painting, motion picture projection, airplane mechanics, general agriculture, welding, bulldozer operation, air compressor operation and general engineering.

In addition there were such special schools as police work, and men (Please turn to Page 2)

Supply Of Nylons Sold In 40 Minutes

A line of customers 50 feet long formed on Baltimore street in front of the G. C. Murphy store this morning before the store opened, when word got around that the store had received a shipment of nylon hosiery.

The crowd, mostly women, made a rush for the hosiery counter as soon as the doors were opened, but C. O. Schweizer, manager, said everything was orderly. The nylons sold in approximately 40 minutes.

They had not been advertised, but the news got around fast. Women who had not heard of it sensed something important when they saw the line forming, and got in line as the magic word "nylons" spread.

This was the first shipment received by the Murphy store since before the holidays. There were only a few pairs received then. Mr. Schweizer said he expected to re-ceive other shipments from time to time later.

FOUR INJURED IN AUTO CRASH ON BATTLEFIELD

Four persons were injured, none seriously, when a sedan operated by Lt. Clarence W. Epley, Jr., 22, Chambersburg street, crashed into a bridge marker and turned over on an embankment this morning at 1:15 o'clock on Meredith avenue, west of Gettysburg on the battlefield and a short distance south of the Lincoln highway.

Raymond Spahr, 23, York street, has been admitted as a patient to the Warner hospital. X-rays revealed he suffered a fractured bone in his right shoulder.

John Reinecker, 24, Eberhart apts., Lt. Epley and Miss Peggy Snyder, 22, Bethesda, Md., were treated at the hospital for abrasions and bruises. Another occupant of the car, Julius Swope, 21, Carlisle street, was uninjured.

Lt. Epley told Ellis G. Starnes, battlefield guard, that he heard a loud noise just before the accident and believes it was a tire blowing out which caused him to lose control of the car on a curve. The auto struck the marker a glancing blow and turned over on its top on an embankment. He was driving south on the avenue at the time of the accident.

Minor damage was done to the marker. The car was damaged to the extent of about $50.

No charges will be filed.

MOTORIST HITS 2 CARS, HOUSE EARLY TODAY

An automobile operated by Pfc. Robert H. Hubbard, 230 York street, struck two parked automobiles and the front of a house on Chambersburg street at 1:20 a. m. today, causing damage totaling approximately $900, according to the report of Borough Officer Clark W. Staley, who investigated the accident.

The Hubbard car was proceeding east on Chambersburg street when it swerved and struck the car of Paul Oyer, 214 Chambersburg street, damaging the left rear fender and left rear wheel, the report said. It then proceeded about 90 feet, veered to the north side of the street and struck the car of Melvin Cump, 207 Chambersburg street, driving it against the stone steps of a house occupied by Mrs. Bertha Culp.

Hubbard's car was turned around and headed west after striking the Cump automobile. Hubbard was thrown out, but suffered only minor injury to his knees. Damage to the Cump car was estimated at $300 and to the Hubbard car $500. Damage to the house was placed at $15.

Pfc. Hubbard is a veteran of three years and four months' army service, 28 of which was spent in Europe. He recently re-enlisted and will report for assignment in March. He expects to return to Germany.

Sportsmen Oppose Gun Registration

The Adams County Federation of Sportsmen, at a recent meeting in Littlestown, adopted a resolution opposing the proposed firearms bill, S1678, which would require all guns made since 1899 to be registered, and requested all interested sportsmen to write their representatives and senators expressing their opposition to the bill.

It was pointed out at the recent meeting that France had had such a law requiring the registration of firearms, and that when the Germans overran France, it was very easy for them to collect the guns, once the Germans were in possession of the register.

The meeting was held in the Alpha fire engine house, and Stanford Mummert, of the York and Adams County Fish and Game association was a guest. The by-laws of the federation were read for the third time and adopted, on motion of Karl Bankert.

17 Licenses To Wed In January

The number of marriage licenses issued by the Adams county clerk of the courts, Mrs. Emma Sheffer, during January, fell below the total for December, but was more than for the same month a year ago.

Seventeen marriage licenses were issued in January, compared with 24 in December, and 12 in January, 1945. There were only seven licenses issued in January, 1944.

Sgt. Harrison M. Dickson, West Broadway, has arrived at Camp Kilmer, N. J., from Bremen, Germany. He expects to receive his discharge at Indiantown Gap in the near future.

SPAIN'S LANDED GENTRY SLOWLY DISAPPEARING

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP World Traveler)

Madrid, Feb. 1.—One of the most oppressive aspects of this changing Europe is the acceleration in the disappearance of the landed gentry—proprietors of vast estates whose holdings have come to them through inheritance, sometimes through many generations.

This landed aristocracy is for one reason or another being compelled to divest itself of its wealth in the U. S. The causes vary in different countries. High taxation is forcing change in some; cost of maintenance has wiped out revenues in others; and in some there has been expropriation and redistribution among small farmers by the state.

In England high taxation has been the trick. The position there as well summed up for me recently in London by an economic expert who cracked:

"The idea of a duke in a red coat, dishing to hounds across his estate is a cry of 'tallyho' is an anachronism, old boy. He just doesn't exist."

No Longer "Landed"

Well, of course, Britain still has her gentry, but broadly speaking the gentry no longer is "landed." And on the continent the proprietors of wide acres are going the same way, though perhaps for different reasons.

Spain, which geographically is rather isolated from the rest of Europe and hasn't felt the full fury of two world wars, still has many great haciendas in the hands of her landed gentry—but she, too, is facing the necessity of change. This necessity would seem to be recognized in a government bill now before the cortes, providing for the expropriation of rural estates, with due indemnity, and their redistribution among small farmers where such a step is necessary to meet social needs.

This expropriation and redistribution would be carried out by the National Colonization Institute, which already is in existence and has been purchasing land for redistribution. For example, a few days ago the institute purchased some 3,000 acres from Count Dela Puela Del Maestre in the Badajoz area for redistribution among his 530 tenants.

When the republic was established in 1931 there was widespread expropriation of lands and provision was made for division of large estates among the peasants. At the end of the civil war in 1939, when General Franco established a government, property which had been expropriated under the republic was returned to its owners.

Some of the big land owners have seen that writing on the wall and have been disposing of portions or all of their country estates. This has been due in part to recognition of the trend of the times to redistribute the land and in part to economic necessity, the working of the big plantation having ceased to be sufficiently profitable.

Spain's landed gentry has less money these days, because rents to tenants haven't risen along with the cost of maintaining the plantations. It's against the law to increase rents unless the property is to be improved.

DELLINGER WINS

Eighty-five tire marks about 50 feet in length and in a curve showed how the Dellinger car had skidded when he applied his brakes in an attempt to stop before striking the Bierer car. Dietrich was not asked whether he had brought any charges as a result of the accident.

Mechanic Called

Bierer claimed he had opened the left window of his car to signal that he was to make the turn. Dellinger asserted that no such signal was given. He submitted as proof that the window of the Bierer car was closed after the crash, testimony which was supported by Melvin Nary, York street, mechanic for the Glenn L. Bream garage who went to the scene of the accident to tow in the Dellinger car and make sufficient repairs to the Bierer vehicle to permit it to return under its own power. Nary also said that the next day repairs were made on the Bierer car's left front window which he said had been so damaged it could not be lowered more than a few inches from the top.

Arthur Buehler, of the Bream garage, told the jury that damage to the Bierer car was $168.95 and to the Dellinger machine $78.40.

Cites High Cost Of Munitions Disposal

GM 2/C Joseph A. Reaver, Gettysburg, is convinced that "the government is losing more by bringing ammunition back to the U. S. than would be lost if it were destroyed over there."

In a letter to The Gettysburg Times, Reaver, now at Lenardo, N. J., on his last trip prior to securing his discharge from the navy after four years' service, wrote that "we are unloading 8,000 tons of ammunition which we brought from France." He then adds about the apparent waste of bringing the ammunition to the U. S. for destruction, and continues, "But guess they know what they're doing. Someone loses and someone gains. It's always been that way."

"The life on board merchant ships now with just two navy personnel is very dull and tiresome indeed. Nothing ever occupies our minds at all. . . . It's an easy life. One thing wrong, we have little freedom on an ammunition ship. During the war there was always something for us to do—either in battle or getting prepared for one. But now—oh!"

SECOND FEVER CASE

SAYS CRITICISM BEST PROOF OF PAPER'S WORTH

Harrisburg, Feb. 1 (AP)—The newspaper is doing a good job when both "the radical labor leader and the reactionary employer" are "dissatisfied with reporting and editorials," Walter W. Krebs of the Johnstown Tribune told daily publishers at the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers' association convention today.

In an address prepared for delivery at a panel discussion, Krebs declared most criticism of the press "comes from small pressure groups, some who honestly believe they are furthering the best interests of the country but most from those who have purely selfish personal motives."

"We editors know our papers are not perfect," he went on. "They are written and edited by normal human beings. The fact that we are here today to criticize ourselves and to present ideas for improvement to each other is an assurance to the reading public that we are ever alert to publish better newspapers."

Building Good Will

In the same discussion, C. M. Bomberger of the Jeannette News-Dispatch, asserted in a prepared talk that good will for newspapers "is not created by pussyfooting" but by applying the fundamentals: "Get it right, make it clear, get it to them on time."

"A newspaper with a conscience, a newspaper that is courageous and honest and decent and does the job it has to do from the community viewpoint can not help acquiring community good will," he said.

Other scheduled panel participants included John L. Wise of the Butler Eagle, A. J. O'Malley of the Scranton Times and John H. Carter of the Lancaster New Era.

Carrier Troubles

From the circulation standpoint, speakers in prepared speeches at another discussion listed development of efficient carrier boys as their No. 1 problem.

Milton Picou of the Philadelphia Bulletin asserted that "if anything, the situation is more critical and difficult than in any time during the war."

L. M. Orner of the Philadelphia Record declared "the time is upon us that publishers will accept as a matter of course that carrier boys should be protected with some form of insurance, even compensation in case of sickness or an accident while serving or not serving his route, so that his profits would go on in the event that he was unable to serve for a short period of time."

PATROL VESSEL "DISAPPEARED"

Washington, Feb. 1 (AP)—Pearl Harbor investigators today learned that a secret navy map dated December 5, 1941, placed an American patrol vessel in the area from which the Japanese attacked Hawaii two days later.

Vice Admiral William W. Smith, who identified the chart locating the vessel, said it apparently was not shown at all on a ship location chart for the next day, December 6. "It seems to have disappeared," he said.

Representative Murphy (D-Pa.) demanded that the navy supply the name of the patrol vessel, and a report of its movements between December 5 and the attack on December 7.

Smith was chief of staff in 1941 to Admiral Husband E. Kimmel, then Pacific fleet commander.

Representative Gearhart (R-Cal.) wanted to know whether orders for American ships to maintain radio silence had prevented the fleet from getting information which might have tipped off the Japanese attack.

Kerr Misunderstood Question From Press

Singapore, Feb. 1 (AP)—Sir Archibald Kerr said today that he had misunderstood a question at a press conference yesterday and as a result was quoted erroneously as saying there was a strong possibility that Indonesia might become a United Nations trusteeship.

The British special envoy to the Dutch East Indies declared in a formal statement that due to the "acoustic condition of the conference room" he "did not understand that the questioner was referring to trusteeship."

Instead, Sir Archibald said, he thought he was asked "whether Indonesia in its final state would be admitted to the U. N. O." He said he had replied that "he could not say" and added that any action on this question would presumably be taken by the Netherlands government.

MAJOR HANSON

who hoped to be future civilian police officers had the chance to go to an English city and actually study and practice police work with the police forces of those cities.

All of the training was based on the idea of use at a later date as a civilian.

Even a basic music course was given by the divisional band for those who hoped to play in home town concerts upon their return, the local officer said.

Secures Textbooks

In the auto mechanics course established by the 780th Ordnance Company each man attending was assigned as an apprentice to work with a two-man team, performing third echelon repairs and maintenance on army vehicles.

The men attending the auto mechanics school of the 80th Quartermaster Company tore down abandoned autos and reassembled them into vehicles. In addition they had daily classwork on the mechanics of the cars, said Major Hanson.

To supplement the instruction Major Hanson obtained nearly 14,000 textbooks prepared by the army's I. and E. branch and written by experts in their fields.

In addition the men had their regular periods of discussion on topics of the day held as a regular part of the I. and E. program.

In the discussions the I. and E. officers of the various companies would gather with the men to talk over such problems as "Why Are We in Germany?" "The Causes of the War," "The Organization of the United Nations," in addition to a discussion of the news of the day, articles, pamphlets and fact sheets were provided by the I. and E. group to assist the officers and men in the discussions.

Aid To Morale

The army education program for the post-European war period was created to help prevent a repetition of the collapse in morale and discipline that accompanied the end of World War I and to assist officers and men to prepare for their return to civilian life, Major Hanson points out.

The men took to the program with great pleasure. For their work they received certificates which showed they had satisfactorily completed the courses. Many employed the courses to brush up on their original line of work before returning to civilian life.

Major Hanson, who was admitted to the bar in Pennsylvania after entering the service, was an ROTC cadet officer while attending Gettysburg college and then went into the anti-tank branch of the army. After training at Camp Forrest and taking part in desert and Tennessee maneuvers he joined the 80th Division before it was formally activated and went overseas with the division. For two years he was commander of an anti-tank company and then moved up to the division staff in charge of anti-tank work.

After the battle of France and the need for the anti-tank outfits disappeared he was placed on I. and E. work, wrote a booklet giving a popuand Gray band is a responsibility of, and an opportunity for Gettysburg," Mr. Shields stated. "We want each and every citizen to feel that when this band, 'Gettysburg's own,' marches down the street on Memorial Day or plays a local concert, that he (the citizen) has been instrumental in helping put the band back in the public eye." Continuing, Mr. Shields said, "this is Gettysburg's golden moment for regaining that which was curtailed during the war emergency and further hindered by the fire which destroyed all of the band's equipment. It will be no task at all if we continue to receive the cooperation and moral support that Gettysburg is able to give."

Equipment Burned

Nearly $2,000 worth of equipment was lost in the fire which swept the band's rehearsal room several years ago. The loss included uniforms, drums, bass horns, the band's well-stocked library and other equipment.

Tentative plans were discussed by the officers for staging weekly concerts this spring and summer in various parts of the town. Prof. H. S. Stenger, Hanover, who has been engaged as head conductor of the local organization, was much encouraged by the initial turn-out of the band, saying: "We could put a good band on the street tonight. We have played engagements with much poorer instrumentation."

The rehearsal night was set temporarily for Thursday nights at the engine house, beginning at 8 p. m.

JURISDICTION OF PUC IS TESTED

Harrisburg, Feb. 1 (AP)—The question of whether the Public Utility Commission should pass on applications of incorporation of Rural Electric Cooperatives came before the Dauphin county court today.

The Pennsylvania Electric company in a suit is asking the court to restrain Charles M. Morrison, secretary of the commonwealth, from chartering the Allegheny Electric Cooperative, Inc., of Parkers Landing, Armstrong county.

The action, pending since early in 1945, was brought after the Allegheny cooperative sought a charter which the utility company contends would permit it to build a generating plant and sell energy to seven western Pennsylvania cooperatives in competition with it.

The commonwealth claims the 1937 law providing for incorporation of rural electric cooperatives exempts them from jurisdiction of the Public Utility Commission.

Officers of the cooperative later intervened in the case and will join the commonwealth in opposing the Pennsylvania Electric company's contentions.

Seek Charter For New Airline Service

Philadelphia, Feb. 1 (AP)—Dartmouth alumnus of Hanover, N. H., seeking to provide a portion of New England with airline service direct to New York, was scheduled to present his plea for a charter today before the Civil Aeronautics board.

Meantime, all American Aviation, Inc.—one of 31 airline companies seeking charters to operate in interstate commerce in various sections of New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, the New England states, Maryland, Delaware, West Virginia, Virginia, Kentucky, Ohio, South Carolina and the District of Columbia—is expected to complete its testimony seeking approval of eight new pickup routes.

Harry R. Stringer, all American vice president in charge of traffic, told principal CAB examiner Charles Frederick yesterday the firm wants "to give airmail service to small towns."

Sailor's Fiancee Held For Fraud

Erie, Pa., Feb. 1 (AP)—Mrs. Charles Rotenberry, the former Alice Geimer of Erie, faces trial on a charge of fraud returned against her by the Erie grand jury yesterday, involving the $1,165 savings of John Kaminski, ex-sailor of Syracuse, N. Y.

The state charged Kaminski met Miss Geimer two years ago and became engaged to her; then sent her money to build their "dream home" after the war. When the sailor returned home, the state alleged, he found his fiancee had married Pvt. Rotenberry and moved to Hartford, Ark.

SQUIRES HOST TO MAROON 5; OTHER GAMES

Topping the list of Adams county scholastic basketball games to be played tonight is the Gettysburg-Delone game which will be played on the McSherrystown floor.

Although the Maroons will enter the contest a favorite the local outfit is anticipating a stiff battle. The Squires have always proved a tough customer for Gettysburg and tonight's tilt will be no exception.

Jake Dracha's lads have won three games while losing seven but have shown considerable improvement recently. The Maroons have won eight of 10 games.

Despite a four-game winning streak the Forney-men have been causing local fans concern with their failure to maintain a fast clip after the first period in recent games. The team is determined to over-come this and prove their stamina.

Jayvees Clash

The reserve teams will meet in the preliminary game at 7 o'clock. Three games are carded for the Adams County Scholastic league tonight. They include Fairfield at Biglerville, Littlestown at Arendtsville and East Berlin at New Oxford.

The Gettysburg college courtmen will meet Lehigh at Bethlehem Saturday night in another northern division game of the Middle Atlantic conference. The Bullets faced Lehigh here 61-38 but expect to find the Engineers much tougher on their home floor.

Next Wednesday evening Muhlenberg plays the Bream-men here in a game which will have an important bearing on the division race.

ARE COACHES UNDER TENURE

Harrisburg, Feb. 1 (P)—The state Department of Public Instruction today studied an appeal by Harold A. (Tex) Hinte against his dismissal by the Lansford school board to determine if athletic coaches are protected under the provisions of the state's teacher tenure act.

Dr. Francis B. Haas, state superintendent of public instruction, conducted an open hearing on the case yesterday and heard evidence presented by an attorney for the school board that Hinte's only contract with the board called for his services as an athletic coach.

The board further contended that Hinte lacked two years of teaching experience required under the code to qualify for tenure.

Hinte was dismissed on 17 counts of "persistent negligence" with most of the charges centering around the allegation that he was often tardy or absent from his physical education classes.

In his defense Hinte filed, through an attorney, 25 pages of testimony in which he said he not only served as athletic coach but occupied the physical education post.

It was brought out at the hearing that Lansford's 1945 football team won five games, tied two, and lost three. The setbacks included one at Pottsville which Hinte's attorney charged had a great deal to do with the dismissal decision of the board.

Lou Trudel Starts Goal-Getting Drive

(By The Associated Press)
Lou Trudel, holder and co-holder of numerous American hockey league scoring records, is starting later than usual in his goal-getting campaign, but Cleveland fans are hoping he will help clinch a playoff spot for the Barons.

In his last four contests, Trudel counted three times and assisted in five other markers to run his point total to 46 for the year. Last year he scored 31 goals in the last 30 games of the season.

At present, the Barons, 1944-45 champions, are in third place, the final playoff berth in the loop's western division, one point in front of the St. Louis Flyers.

Total U. S. production of farm machinery in 1944 was valued at more than $1,080,000,000, compared with $552,000,000 in 1929.

DARTMOUTH ACE ATHLETE WITH MOST COURAGE

By HERB ALTSCHULL
Philadelphia, Feb. 1 (P)—A soft-spoken young man named Meryll Frost—scarred and maimed in a plane crash—was awarded the honor of "most courageous athlete of 1945" by the Philadelphia Sports Writers association.

The 24-year-old ex-GI—Dartmouth college football star—stood silently in the spotlight before the 1,200 gathered at the association's 42nd annual banquet last night and said with a quiet eloquence:

"I've never had the opportunity to say this publicly, but I want to say it now. You've often heard me saying: 'Behind every great man there is a woman.' Now, I don't pretend to be great, but there was a woman—my wife. (She is the former Pauline McKenzie of Beverly, Mass.)

Frost was burned seriously in the crash of an army bomber in Italy in 1943. He spent 18 months in hospitals. He was given 15 pints of blood plasma. He had six operations. Ears, eyebrows and skin were grafted to replace what he had lost.

In All-Star Tilt
Last year, Frost returned to the Dartmouth gridiron he left to enter the army—and starred for a team that won only one game in ten. He also played with the east team in the east-west charity game at San Francisco last January 1.

There were a host of other sports figures—baseball Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler, Hank Greenberg of the Detroit Tigers, Ben Chapman of the Philadelphia Phillies, Steve Van Buren of the pro football Philadelphia Eagles, National football Commissioner Bert Bell and others—but it was Frost's show.

Byron Nelson, the nation's number one golfer, was given in absentia the sports writers' award of the outstanding athlete of the year.

The banquet had a "victory" theme and Greenberg added to it. "Don't expect every returned veteran to be as good as he was before the war," the Detroit slugger said. "They were in a war," he added smiling, "they'll be in a different kind of war next season."

State Cage Final In Convention Hall

Harrisburg, Feb. 1—Convention Hall, Philadelphia, has been chosen as the site for the Class A state championship schoolboy basketball game this year, Executive Secretary Edmund Wicht of the PIAA revealed here today. The title game will be played on Saturday, March 30. Convention Hall also will be the site of the Eastern Regional finals on Monday, March 25.

Class B honors will be decided in the western part of the state, the PIAA board of control also agreed. The Jaffe Temple, Altoona, or Farrell high school floor will be scene of this contest, depending upon who the contestants will be. Jaffe Temple, perhaps, is being given stronger consideration because of its proximity to the districts which will produce district Class B champions.

YANKEES PICKED BY MACK FOR '46

Tampa, Fla., Feb. 1 (P)—The New York Yankees will win the American league pennant in 1946, says Connie Mack, who predicts his Philadelphia Athletics "will be an also ran."

The aged manager, often called "Mr. Baseball," praised Bob Feller and his associates who are conducting a baseball school here for war veterans.

"All teams except the Athletics will be strengthened greatly by returning servicemen," Mack said, "and I still pick the Yankees to win the American league pennant because they have been winners in the past and are getting several of their top players back from the service."

"Boston looks like the next team with Washington and Detroit fighting hard for the top positions. The Athletics will be an also ran."

"We have no players coming back from the service and it will be a question of whether promising youngsters will play good enough. We will have to have a big surprise if we are to keep up with the other seven clubs in the loop."

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Feb. 1 (P)—When a committee from the College Baseball Coaches' association meets a major league group Sunday to consider "premature" signing of college players, it might be a good idea for them to offer a concrete plan.

From what Commissioner Happy Chandler said about signing high school players before that was ruled out recently, we figure his stand will be that it's okay for clubs to grab college boys at any time . . . as long as a boy or his parents sign a contract and there is no evidence or misrepresentation, the commissioner can't do anything but approve the contract, Chandler explained. . . . And

A cluster of players occupied the 68 slot. All were potential threats. They included the defending champion

Just Folks

By Edgar A. Guest

WHAT FATHER USED TO SAY
Said old Crankmire at the table in a reminiscent way:

"More and more I keep repeating things my father used to say.
Though at first I little heeded (as if youngsters ever do),
Still today I hear him saying:
'Here's a bit of counsel true:
Never judge a man by color, race or form of faith and prayer.
Never cast upon another any burden
you should bear.

"When you set your hand to labor give your best to every task.
Never be ashamed to answer if,
who did this? men should ask.
Sell your strength and skill for money, but give value in return.
Never ask the world to give you what you will not work to earn.

Oh, I know this sounds like preaching, but long after I'm away
You may sometimes tell your comrades what your father used to say."

"There are always din and clamor, and the vulgar and the loud.
There are always rabble-rousers who keep stirring up the crowd.
But alone, and by his fireside, every father, when he can,
Tries his best to teach his youngster what it is that makes the man.
And these things that I've been telling are repeated every day
By the humblest and the greatest with: 'My father used to say.'"

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS
THOUGHTS—OUR GUESTS

One of the great arts, as well as tasks, is to learn to live with oneself! We can accumulate a library of thoughts as truly as we can accumulate a library of books. One is invisible, that's all.

But, perhaps, this invisible library
—of thoughts—is the more valuable, because we can carry it with us wherever we go. Even in the darkness of night, before these eyes of ours are closed, we can still dip into this library of thought.

The thoughts of the ages are put into books. We absorb them. We live with them as though they were human things. We speculate upon their background, and their ancestry. We marry them to our own —until we have a happy community of thoughts, both old and young!

These thoughts are our friends.
friends that are our precious guests.
Many of them guests throughout life. Guests of whom we never tire.

The activities, associations, and interests of youth are almost endless. There is a freedom of care from them all. And little responsibility attached. But when the mature years arrive, these things that were so abundant in youth, narrow. Some disappear entirely. We are thrown upon our remembered happiness, and are forced to dip into this library of our mind, and to draw out these guest thoughts of ours that we may appease our mental and spiritual hunger.

I talked with an old newspaper man recently, and he told of his youth, when there was but a single book in his home, and that the Bible. Later a few books of poetry were added, but his hungry mind feasted upon these few books, and he committed to memory hundreds of inspiring passages, so that as the years accumulated, he found these passages revisiting him again and again. He told me they had enriched him more than he could express.

By thinking of these thoughts of ours, as our guests, no matter how alone we may be at times, still we are not alone. We live in the midst of multitudes!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Saturday Night"

The twentieth birthday anniversary who showed that the woman's work for the college began in 1848 when they assisted the boys with a bazaar in which he painted a vivid word-picture of the achievements of the order, particularly those during and

Grand Exalted Ruler Lawrence H.
Rupp, of Allentown, head of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks in America, at a banquet at the Blue Parrot Tea room, Monday evening.

was founded in 1907, was greeted by a capacity crowd of 160 persons, including guests from York, Chambersburg, Carlisle, Waynesboro and Hanover lodges.

C. R. Wolff, exalted ruler of Gettys-

Thursday night. It was the largest gathering of its kind since the inception of the employers' banquet by the business girls.

Miss Pauline Little was toast-mistress and officiated in a capable manner.
The Rev. Howard S. Fox pronounced prayer, and Miss Floranna
Fox, president of the Business girls, gave a brief address of welcome.
Professor Lloyd Keefe delivered the response for the employers. Dr.
Hoover delivered the principal address of the evening.

Says Meeting is successful: So successful was the conference of ministers of rural and village churches at the Lutheran theological seminary, Thursday, that the Rev.
Dr. Harvey D. Hoover, at whose suggestion more than 200 ministers of six synods gathered here, said at the close of the sessions that the conference would probably be made an

UNUSUAL AMITY WON FOR CHINA BY CONCESSIONS

(By The Associated Press)

A new, brighter sun rose over China's political horizon today amid scenes of extraordinary amity between the Central government and Communists.

Concessions made by both groups led to agreement by the political consultation conference on reorganization of the National Assembly. This was followed by quick ratification of the agreement by the Kuomintang (National) party under personal guidance of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek.

The reorganized National Assembly—consisting of representatives from various leading Chinese factions—will have as its task the adoption of a constitution, revised by a 35-man all-party and non-partisan commission.

Adoption of the constitution must be by a three-fourths vote—a difficult achievement in the multi-bodied, 2,050-member group. The assembly meets May 5.

Another Asiatic trouble spot, Indonesia, appeared headed toward a United Nations trusteeship after the Netherlands government and the unrecognized Indonesian Republic resolve their differences.

Sir Archibald Clark Kerr, British representative at the negotiations between the Dutch and Indonesians, said at Singapore he believed the rich islands might be taken under the United Nations wing "when the present difficulties are settled."

British troops appeared off Kure, Japan, as Britain prepared to assume a share of the occupation task in the fallen empire.

A welcome extended by General MacArthur included an observation that arrival of the new force will permit a reduction of American forces in Japan. The Allied commander said China and Russia have been invited to provide troops but China has indicated she cannot and Russia has not acted upon the invitation.

GOP SPLIT OVER POLICY TOWARD STRIKE CONTROL

Washington, Feb. 1 (AP)—Republicans fell out today over just how tough the House should make the sweeping new strike control legislation it hopes to pass in a matter of days.

There was cold comfort for the administration in that, for consideration of the bill represented a sharp setback. The House took it up in preference to an anemic version of the fact finding measure asked by President Truman.

Some of the House GOP contingent said privately they believe the pending proposal of Representative Case (R., S. D.) should be modified considerably, but other party members thought it would go

Voted 258 to 114

Republicans lined up almost solidly when the House voted 258 to 114 yesterday to give the Case measure right of way. Only 15 Republicans were recorded against the move.

Later, however, several influential minority members announced that they had supported the Case proposal only to insure speedy action to curb and help settle industrial strife.

Several disclosed privately they favor toning down the bill. They told reporters they thought the Case measure went too far in its provisions to permit injunctions against unions and to deny collective bargaining or re-employment to workers who boycott companies or picket violently.

Tired of Filibuster
Nevertheless, even majority leaders in the House conceded the Case Bill probably would pass without basic modification.

LEGION CLAIMS 'BREAKDOWN' IN VA FUNCTIONS

Washington, Feb. 1 (AP)—The American Legion called on Congress today for an immediate investigation of a "tragic breakdown" in the Veterans' Administration under Gen. Omar N. Bradley, who took over as chief less than six months ago.

John Stelle, the Legion's national commander, made the "demand" for action in letters to all members of Congress and said the law makers should see that their "mandates are no longer ignored by the Veterans Administration."

VA officials reserved comment on the letter, but Stelle's aides said its release was preceded by an acrimonious telephone battle between Stelle and Bradley over major VA policies.

Grounds for Inquiry
Stelle's letter to Congress claimed an inquiry was warranted because:

1. Between 300,000 and 500,000 disability cases cannot receive proper compensation without undergoing physical examinations because of VA's failure to secure adequate medical records from the army and navy.
2. The hospitalization applications of more than 7,000 needy veterans await processing.
3. Thousands of army hospital beds are not being utilized at a time when VA hospitals are badly congested.
4. Unprocessed applications for education and training under the GI Bill of Rights total 102,839, in addition to 20,411 pending claims for insurance premium waivers, and 287,000 unanswered letters from veterans seeking information on various topics.

Expected Changes
5. VA's "apparent failure" to procure enough competent personnel, and the continued use of incompetent and inexperienced employees.

Stelle asserted the figures he cited were "absolute minimum figures reflecting the extent of the neglect."

Referring to Bradley's appointment as administrator last August, Stelle said servicemen believed it meant "the antiquated and inefficient methods of the VA would be changed."

"However," he declared, "that has not been the case."

The sharp telephone clash between Stelle and Bradley yesterday reportedly centered about hospitalization policy, a question which has the Legion and VA temporarily at odds.

Bradley has said that the current influx of veterans with service-connected disabilities soon might reach the point where VA hospitals would

Iranian Solution May Form Pattern

London, Feb. 1 (AP)—United Nations delegates privately expressed hope Thursday that the Security Council's compromise decision on the Russian-Iranian dispute might point the way to an amicable settlement of the Greek and Indonesian cases which come before the peace agency today.

Whether the latter two cases can be settled without UNO intervention, however, depends largely upon the Russians, who filed complaints with the council charging the British were endangering the peace by military actions in Greece and Indonesia.

The Russians, if they press the cases, will find themselves in the unique position of asking UNO to act in the absence of complaints from the countries involved.

Greek delegates, planning to be on hand when the questions come up, were ready to argue that British troops are necessary in Greece to maintain order.

be unable to handle cases with non-essential disabilities.

This runs counter to Legion policy that care should be provided for some veterans with non-service disabilities, particularly the needy.

Execution Dates For Two Murderers Set

Harrisburg, Feb. 1 (AP)—Governor Martin fixed Wednesday the week beginning Monday, March 25, as the execution dates for two Williamsport men, sentenced to death, in the slaying of Joseph Campbell, 72, retired Erie businessman, last August 5.

William Pepperman, 29, and John Darius West, 27, were charged with fatally beating Campbell at his home on the outskirts of Erie. The body of Campbell, who lived alone, was found tied in a chair, his car, missing from the garage was discovered near Akron, Ohio.

The state supreme court on January 8 rejected the appeals of the two men who pleaded guilty and were sentenced to death after a hearing in Erie to determine the degree of guilt.

Salt Lake City, (AP)—The "wild west" doesn't impress Lloyd Williams, South African newspaperman. Here for the National Wool Growers convention, Williams reported his fellow countrymen are by far a "noisier, tougher bunch."

"Why," he said, "when the boys get together in South Africa they really break up the furniture."

Woman Burned To Death Near Bonneauville Monday Night

Mrs. Sarah Ellen Sterner, 83, was believed burned to death Monday evening about 7 o'clock when her Mount Pleasant township home was destroyed by fire.

State police and an investigator from the state fire marshal's office were continuing today their investigation of the blaze. The home was about midpoint between New Oxford and Bonneauville on a country road leading from the township road which extends from the end of the three-lane section of the Lincoln highway to Bonneauville.

Mrs. Sterner lived alone in the two-room structure. John Harman, who lives near the Sterner home and a companion named Baker discovered the fire about 7 o'clock, according to reports given the state police. Harman and Baker went on beyond the scene of the fire to the home of Harman's parents and called the New Oxford and Bonneauville fire companies. They then returned to the fire and attempted to enter the house. By breaking a window they were able to enter one room but were forced out by the flames and smoke pouring out of the kitchen of the building.

Find Burned Body
When the fire companies arrived the house had been gutted and the walls were ready to fall. After the kitchen wall had fallen firemen engaged in pulling the structure apart in order to quickly extinguish the blaze. They accidentally hooked into the burned body which is believed to be that of Mrs. Sterner.

Dr. C. G. Crist, county coroner, pronounced the woman dead of burning and the body was removed to the Bender funeral home.

Mrs. Sterner was a native of Adams county, and daughter of the late David and Sarah Agnes Arntz Shultz. She leaves two daughter, Mrs. Clayton King, Gettysburg R. 5; Mrs. Lulu Doersom, Gettysburg R. 5; two brothers, David and Charles Shultz, New Oxford R. 2, and two sisters, Mrs. Lulu Bentz and Mrs. Alice Gibbons, York.

Mrs. Sterner's husband, Jacob Sterner, is believed to be still living near York Springs.

Sgt. W. Kurt Duhrkoff and Pvt. Robert Dietrich of the local state police are conducting the investigation.

Photographers At January Meeting

Fifteen prints were displayed by members of the Gettysburg Photographic society at their January meeting last Thursday evening at the home of Paul G. Pensinger, 456 West Middle street, and "Storm Country," a photo by Mr. Pensinger was voted best in the exhibit by the 10 members and one guest in attendance.

"Water Lily," by Prof. Dunning Idle, Jr., took second place; "Old Mill," by Edward Stine, third; "Vesper Time," by Paul A. Kinsey, fourth, and "Ice Decorations," by Maurice Sloops, fifth.

The February meeting will be held at the home of Edward Stine.

DISCHARGES FILED
Two discharges were filed for recording at the court house Friday by former service men. They were: Sgt. Carl W. Howe, York Springs R. 2, and Sgt. Donald M. Smith, Gardners.

Demand Room In Jail; Gets It

David McDaniel, whose home is in Tennessee, but who has been employed recently in Gettysburg, asked for, and received a ten-day jail sentence Wednesday, according to Justice of the Peace John H. Basehore, before whom he was arraigned.

McDaniel, according to Squire Basehore, went to the county jail Tuesday night and made a nuisance of himself by demanding a "room." Sheriff J. A. Millhimes told McDaniel that he could not be admitted without a "paper."

Later this difficulty was met. McDaniel was arrested by Borough Police Officer Paul Shearer on a disorderly conduct charge. The sentence was in default of a fine of $10 and costs.

M'CLELLAN IS PRESIDENT OF VET FIREMEN

George A. McClellan, one of the founders of the present Gettysburg fire company when it was reorganized in 1899, was named president of the Veterans Volunteer Firemen's association last Thursday night.

The election was held following the ninth annual banquet of the association which numbers as its members men who have been active firemen with the Gettysburg company for more than a decade. He succeeded James B. Aumen, another of the eight surviving members of the original reorganized fire company.

Before calling the roll of the organizers of the Veterans' group, the firemen voted that as long as the original members live they shall be called upon to head the organization. The election marked the second time Mr. McClellan has held the presidential chair. He was the second president. First president of the Veterans firemen was C. Ray Rupp, named when the then 11 remaining members of the original reorganization of the local fire company met in 1938 to organize as the Veterans' association.

Other Officers
The original members include Mr. McClellan, Donald C. Stallsmith, Mr. Rupp, Maurice Miller, Charles E. Zeigler and Mr. Aumen, all of whom were present for Thursday's dinner. C. Tyson Tipton and Robert H. Long.

Mr. Zeigler was elected vice president and S. Richard Eisenhart was named secretary-treasurer. Eight members of the local fire company who have served for 10 or more years were elected as members of the veterans group. They included Walter Crouse, Ed Myers, Paul Oylor, Donald Jacobs, Raymond Bisbing, George Bushman, Richard Cole and Dorsey Rebert.

The members rose and stood silent for one minute in memory of Thomas J. Hardy, a member who died during the year. A number of firemen who served in the armed forces during World War II were guests at the dinner which was held at the Blue Parrot tea room. Fifty attended.

IVAN CASSATT SENT TO JAIL

The "law" caught up with Ivan Cassatt, Gettysburg R. 1, Wednesday after looking for him since December 5. Cassatt was charged with parking a truck on Baltimore street, near the Middle street intersection, on that date, and leaving it there most of the day with the motor running.

Information was signed by Chief of Police Robert C. Harpster and a ten-day notice was mailed by Justice of the Peace John H. Basehore to Seven Stars. The notice was returned, and efforts to locate Cassatt since were unavailing until Chief Harpster and Borough Police Officer Albert Wolford picked the man up in Gettysburg Wednesday. He was committed to jail for five days in default of a $10 fine and costs.

Seven Rights Of Way Filed Here

The Metropolitan Edison company today filed seven rights-of-way over property in Latimore township, on the Latimore-Mount Holly Springs road and the Deardorff Mill-Whisky Springs road, obtained from the following owners: Raymond H. and Mary A. Smith; Elmer L. and Beulah Strayer; Lewis M. and Cora J. Strayer; James R. and Anna G. Smith; William P. and Mollie C. Chronister; Howard A. and Esther M. Wolf; and George E. and Laura G. Johnson.

MOTORIST ON TRIAL HERE AS DRUNKEN DRIVER

The January session of Adams county court began Monday morning with a plea of nolle contendere on two counts from one defendant who was indicted Friday by the grand jury and the beginning of the trial of another on a charge of drunken driving.

Joseph M. Condon, Gettysburg R. 3, entered the "no defense" plea, and will be sentenced without standing trial on charges of larceny of a motor vehicle and burglary of a dwelling.

The first case before the jury, which reached about the halfway mark when the court recessed for lunch at noon, was that of Edward T. Weaver, Blue Ridge Summit, charged with drunken driving. Weaver had previously pleaded guilty before Justice of the Peace John H. Basehore, then had withdrawn his plea and was indicted Friday. John P. Butt is defense attorney.

Court Opinion

An opinion of court was handed down Monday morning in the libel of divorce brought by Paul Edward Storm, Littlestown, against Catherine Marguerite Gulden Storm. The opinion directs that the record in the case be returned to the master to produce additional testimony within a period of 60 days. Because the testimony does not support the alleged fact of infidelity, the court directed that unless additional testimony is given within the time limit "it is directed that the libel be dismissed at the cost of the libellant."

The jury in the Weaver trial included Anna B. Collins, Gettysburg R. 1; Luther W. Epley, Littlestown; Earl F. Flickinger, Littlestown R. 2; John R. Fidler, Biglerville; Earl Kump, Biglerville R. 1; Charles C. Little, Littlestown R. 2; George W. Miller, Hanover; Miss Emma Myers, Gettysburg R. 5; Luther S. Myers, New Oxford R. 1; Mrs. Myrtle Oylor, Gettysburg; Bruce Sheaffer, Biglerville R. D.; and William Snyder, New Oxford.

5 SCOUT TROOPS PARTICIPATE IN FIRST-AID-O-REE

Before approximately 100 interested spectators in the East Berlin high school auditorium Monday evening, representatives from five Boy Scout troops of the Round Top district participated in a first aid demonstration, called a "First-Aid-O-Ree."

In charge of the affair was Glenn Stock, Hampton, chairman of the health and safety committee of the Round Top district.

The program opened with several selections by members of the high school band, followed by a grand march, pledge of allegiance and address of welcome by E. M. Gruver, supervising principal of schools and an Eagle scout and former field executive of Boy Scouts while teaching in Arizona. Mr. Gruver also served as starter, timer and presenter of merit certificates.

Each patrol participating consisted of six scouts with full equipment. Four simulated first-aid problems were executed by each team whose work was in turn judged by four judges. This was not a competitive affair but a qualifying exercise, which, if satisfactorily passed, automatically permits the patrols to enter the Council contest in York in the middle of February.

How Patrols Scored
A score of 80 or better earned for the patrol a blue-seal certificate of achievement, a score of 70 to 79 earned a red-seal certificate, while a score of less than 70 meant disqualification from the Council contest.

Following is the way the troops scored: Troop 38, Dillsburg, Sam Jones, scout master, Cobra patrol, 80 points; Eagle patrol, 82.2 points, Frontiersmen patrol 80 points, all blue-seal certificates; Troop 87, Thomasville, Robert Gross, Sr., scout master, Wolf patrol 76 points, Panther patrol 61, one red-seal certificate; Troop 85, New Oxford, Merrill Yohe, scout master, Beaver patrol 70 points, Tiger patrol 72.2 points, two red-seal certificates; Troop 96, New Chester, John Stock, Jr., scout master, Eagle patrol 70 points, Beaver patrol 69 points, one red-seal certificate; Troop III, East Berlin, Leonard Myers, Scout master, Beaver patrol 51 points, no certificate.

Snead Clift, field executive, Gettysburg, was present and congratulated the boys on their fine demonstration.

3 Charged With Code Violations

Ten-day notices were mailed Tuesday by Justice of the Peace John H. Basehore to three drivers arrested by Borough Police Officer Clark W. Staley.

Maurice H. Ceygand, Gettysburg R. 5, was arrested at 12:05 a. m. January 26 on charges of driving too fast for road conditions and failing to stop on signal of an officer.

Ralph G. Taylor, Biglerville, was charged with reckless driving in Gettysburg at 2:05 a. m. January 28. He was arrested on Carlisle street after a chase, police said.

James E. Weygandt, 44 South street, was charged with reckless driving on Chambersburg street at 2:45 a. m. Tuesday. Police said he struck two parked automobiles and rolled his own car over.

5 TRUCKLOADS OF CLOTHES ARE GATHERED HERE

Gettysburg's town-wide collection of clothing Sunday afternoon for the Victory Clothing collection netted nearly five truckloads of clothing, much of it is very good quality. Chairman Cloyd Shetter said Monday.

Mr. Shetter thanked the Boy Scouts, nearly a score of whom reported to help with the collection; truck drivers Donald Myers, Richard Cole and Richard Codori, the Gettysburg fire company and the Citizens Oil company for the use of their trucks. The chairman also acknowledged gifts of twine from Zerlings, Adams county and Redding's hardware stores. The twine will be used in tying the boxes for shipment. Additional cartons for packing also are needed.

The clothing collection chairman asked outlying communities to get their collections of clothing for the needy overseas into the Gettysburg collection center in the Epley building in the first block of South Washington street this week. The national drive is scheduled to close January 31.

To Set Up Central Stations

Centrally located collection stations are to be set up in Gettysburg for the convenience of rural residents who wish to donate clothing. Mr. Shetter said. Announcement will be made soon of the location of those collection points.

OFFICER SENDS GIFT TO LIBRARY FROM SHANGHAI

New gifts of books and magazine subscriptions to the Adams County Free Library were acknowledged today by Miss Kathryn Olier, librarian.

One of the gift books, "China in Sign and Symbol," came from Shanghai as the gift of Capt. Granville R. Schultz, Gettysburg, now serving in China with the army dental corps. With the book came a letter from the officer in which he wrote in part:

"I've been watching The Gettysburg Times with a great deal of interest for news about the growth and progress of the library. It's good to see that it's making sure and steady advance toward its goal. The book is a 'valuable addition' to the reference section of the library, Miss Olier said.

Other Gifts

Author Elsie Murray has sent the library a copy of her little book "French Refugee Colony of 1793," the story of Azilum where the first heroic little group of exiles from France settled in the Pennsylvania wilderness in 1793.

Mrs. Herbert Schmidt, of Woodboro, Md., has sent the library a subscription to the child's magazine, "Jack and Jill," and Miss Laura Dock has donated a subscription to the National Geographic. An anonymous donor contributed a subscription to McCall's.

Miss Olier said additional magazine subscriptions will be welcome but suggests that prospective donors consult her to avoid duplications.

According to borough police, Patterson purchased two truckloads of steers at Carlisle Friday. Enroute to Ellicott City, he and the driver of the other truck stopped in Gettysburg and parked the trucks. No action was brought against the other driver. Patterson, in addition to the costs of the action, also paid borough employees for cleaning the sidewalk and street where the trucks were parked.

100 Searchers Find Lost Boy After 4 Hours

After being missing from his home for four hours Monday afternoon, two-year-old Donald Eugene Sell, son of Pvt. and Mrs. Clyde Sell, Biglerville R. 1, was located about three-quarters of a mile from his home by a searching party of about 100 persons including neighbors, residents and school children of Arendtsville.

The youngster and his pet dog disappeared from his home about 12:30 o'clock and were not located until 4:30 o'clock. A short time after his absence was discovered a searching party was organized.

The child, who according to his mother is used to being out-of-doors most of the time, suffered no ill effects from his trip through neighboring woods and fields.

It is believed the youngster traveled about four miles during the afternoon. He was located by searchers along Boyds Run, above The Narrows, unsuccessfully attempting to crawl up an icy embankment.

The child's father is overseas with the army. Donald will observe his third birthday anniversary in April.

SEEK SCHOOL HEALTH DATA IN THIS AREA

The school division of the Pennsylvania Department of Health today asked for reports of the health service in Adams county schools as a step toward the opening of the new school health program, under the state's direction, here. The questionnaires, to be returned to John W. German, Jr., chief of the school division, were sent out Friday by the Adams county school superintendent's office to secretaries of school boards in the 32 Adams county districts.

"We are endeavoring to get the school health program under way so that we can take care of fourth class districts where we have the available personnel and facilities," said a letter to Dr. Robert A. Bream, assistant county superintendent, from Mr. German. He said that in setting up the program, the state would try to make it continuous, so that once it is organized, it will continue the next year without any additional authorization.

Must File Report

School districts are required, by state law, to submit a report of health service. "The prompt return of the report will insure early action on this program for your district," Mr. German's letter said.

Information is sought on number of pupils, number of teachers, number of bus drivers and other employees, name and address of school nurse, dental hygienist, space for examinations, and whether the district conducts dental, ocular, medical or surgical clinics.

consultant, Dr. Earl Bowen, a citation for the late Mrs. Nan Dellinger, kit bag chairman, was presented to her family.

A set of by-laws, presented by Mrs. R. S. Baby, chairman of this committee, was adopted unanimously. The chapter has operated without by-laws.

Resolutions, in addition to one praising the long and devoted service of Mrs. Lewars, carried in full elsewhere in this edition included one thanking Christ Lutheran church for space given for use of the Red Cross, and thanking The Gettysburg Times and other papers and their staffs for their cooperation with the chapter and the Red Cross.

Heads Fund Drive

Announcement was made by Mrs. Lewars that Maj. Murray B. Fraze will lead the forthcoming fund drive. On his committee will be William C. Tyson and Paul Littleton.

Other than election of officers and awarding of certificates and service bars, two talks featured the annual meeting, both describing the work of the Red Cross.

The meeting was opened by Mrs. Lewars with the singing of "America" and the invocation by Dr. Dwight P. Putman, pastor of Christ Lutheran church. Mrs. Lewars reviewed briefly the work of the Adams county chapter, and thanked all who had supported it and worked for it.

Miss Clara Preston, representing the eastern area headquarters, said she brought the thanks of the national organization for the wholehearted cooperation of the Adams county chapter, and paid tribute to Mrs. Lewars' leadership.

In discussing the post-war job of the Red Cross, Miss Preston said "We need the same people to carry on after the war. You know the needs of your community." She quoted the words of Gen. MacArthur: "The fighting is over. We're sending your men and women back to you. Take care of them." Miss Preston said that "we did that after the other war. It's a bigger task now."

Vets Need Red Cross

Miss Preston said that 90 per cent of the men being separated from the service will look to the Red Cross for assistance in filling claims, etc. She also declared, in discussing Red Cross work, that the organization had raised the intelligence of communities more than any other agency, in the post-school age group.

The speaker said a new first aid textbook had come out of World War II; that disaster relief had grown tremendously since the days of Clara Barton; that the camp and hospital program is still going on, and that it is now verging over into a veteran hospital proposition. Recommending the nutritional work of the Red Cross, Miss Preston said that the draft had revealed a large proportion of defects due to under-nourishment, not from lack of money, but from eating the right foods.

"The Red Cross has had a glorious war period. It is you who have done the job," Miss Preston said, in closing.

Ex-Chaplain Speaks

Another speaker was the Rev. George Berkeimer, pastor of Trinity Lutheran church at Arendtsville, who recently returned after serving with the chaplain corps in the Pacific.

"We who were the recipients of many of the comforts which came from the Red Cross wondered who were the authors of them," Mr. Berkeimer said. "After sitting here tonight, that question is fully answered. It is amazing that so many women in Adams county contributed a minimum of 200 hours of work to the Red Cross. May I, who shared in the benefits, thank you who prepared them."

The speaker declared that wherever "our boys and girls" went, the Red Cross was there too, and added that "For three years it was my privilege to go up and down the South Pacific, and wherever I went, the Red Cross had been there before me. The real work accomplished by the Red Cross was of such nature that it will abide in the minds of men and women for years to come."

After relating the various services provided by the Red Cross, Mr. Berkeimer said that "If the Red Cross had done nothing more than send its female workers to the islands, that would have justified all the expense. It is amazing," he continued, "how quickly man returns to the primitive. The longer we were there, the more clothes the natives had and the less we wore. The Red Cross women by their presence, tended to keep the men from becoming rough; they kept their morale up, and they tended to make them better men."

Presents Service Pin

Tribute was also paid by the speaker to the Red Cross work at home, the "go-between" service between the servicemen and their parents. "What has been done has been done through the willingness of workers like yourselves," he concluded.

A tribute to the work of the Red Cross in Indo-China, by Prof. George F. Gutmann, of the faculty of Gettysburg college, was read into the record of the meeting by Mrs. Henry M. Scharf.

Mrs. Clyde B. Stover was presented by Mrs. Lewars, on behalf of the Red Cross, with a service pin and gold bar representing 5,000 hours of volunteer service. ## NO FOUL PLAY IN FIRE DEATH, POLICE REPORT home was leveled by flames, has not State police said Wednesday that investigation of the fire which Monday night claimed the life of Mrs. Sarah Ellen Sterner, 83, when her two-room Mt. Pleasant township uncovered any indications of foul play.

The investigators said further that there is nothing to indicate an incendiary origin for the blaze which destroyed the elderly woman's home about 7 o'clock Monday evening.

The police pointed out that Mrs. Sterner used kerosene lamps for lighting her home and said that she may have fallen against the lamp by tripping or because of sudden illness and thus started the fire that resulted in her death. Police said the charred body of Mrs. Sterner's pet dog was found close to that of the woman in the charred ruins of the kitchen where it has been established that the fire started.

The investigation has not yet been closed, Sgt. W. Kurt Duhrkoff of the Gettysburg substation of the state police said, but is being continued by representatives of the state fire marshal's office.

Arrangements were completed for the funeral Thursday, meeting at the Bender funeral home, Gettysburg, at 7:15 o'clock followed by services at St. Mary's Catholic church, New Oxford, at 8 o'clock. Interment in St. Mary's cemetery, New Oxford.

BEES PRACTICE 'DEMOCRACY,' SAYS SPEAKER

Bees practice the most perfect form of democratic life, Paul E. King, supervising principal of the Littlestown schools, told the Gettysburg Rotary club Monday night at its regular meeting in the YWCA. Basing his talk on his experiences with keeping bees as a hobby, Professor King told of how the insects are able to control the sex of the larvae by feeding on different kinds of food, of how the young bees immediately take up their work in the hive of cleaning and caring for the queen and feeding the larvae, of how they later become guards at the entrance to the hive and finally take to the field to gather pollen and nectar from the flowers.

Because of the usefulness of bees in pollination, the Littlestown educator declared that agriculturists are seeking return of small "backyard" beekeepers in order to increase the number of bees in existence.

Clean housekeepers, the bees will use beeswax to cover over in an airtight chamber any foreign article they cannot remove from the hive. The bees keep the hive perfectly air-conditioned by fanning with their wings to circulate the air and thus are able to maintain a constant temperature. In wintertime by huddling together in a ball and moving about they are still able to keep up the temperature of the hive.

Two New Rotarians

The reason smoke makes bees quiet is based on their memory of fires when they originally lived in forests, Professor King declared. The smoke causes the bees immediately to start eating as fast as they can in preparation for a fast trip away from the supposed fire area. And when a bee is full of food it will not bother anyone, so the beekeepers can work with them in perfect safety.

There are between 25 to 75 thousand bees in a single hive and occasionally the population may reach 100,000. But the bees have to work hard to produce the 100 to 150 pounds of honey annually found in hives in Adams county, Mr. King declared. To produce a pound of honey bees have to make about 800,000 trips and visit a million flowers.

Frank Britcher and Dr. Roy Gifford were named as new members of Rotary. Fifty members and guests attended the session at which President James S. Cairns presided.

Of the new students two-fifths are former undergraduates at Gettysburg college who are returning here after their war service. The others for the most part are men who have had no previous college training. "Only a handful" are veterans who previously started work at other colleges, Registrar Wolfe said.

Among the veterans who are taking up their studies are women, with four of the 12 being former WACs and WAVES. Some of the other eight girls registered for the second semester are wives of servicemen who also are attending the college.

great emergencies which have risen in the home county.

"Typical of the thousands of local Red Cross units which form the basic structure of the national organization is the Adams County Chapter which you have so ably guided through many years. The strength of the chapter, its contribution to the countless needs of men and women on the battle front and the personal service which it has rendered everywhere is a tribute to your zeal for the work of the Red Cross and your able leadership in attaining its high objectives.

"I am sure that I speak for all the members of the Rotary club when I say that we deeply appreciate the invaluable services which you have rendered through the years."

Schoolman's Tribute

Dr. Robert A. Bream, assistant superintendent of the Adams County Red Cross, said:

"The county's schools will always be indebted for the work the Red Cross has performed during the past many years. Not only has the Red Cross done much to aid those students who through some misfortune needed assistance, but through the Junior Red Cross organization did much in helping the schools develop responsible citizens.

"A great deal of the credit for the development of the Red Cross in this county goes to Mrs. Lewars, who helped found it and served for so long as its chairman.

"Each year Mrs. Lewars has spoken on the Red Cross at the county meetings of the teachers and we will miss her presence this year and in future years. It is to be regretted that Mrs. Lewars has resigned as chairman but we hope she will find time to continue giving counsel to the local Red Cross."

The splendid work of the Red Cross under Mrs. Lewars' direction in assisting the veteran is summed up in the words of Paul M. Rohrbaugh, service officer of the local American Legion post.

"Through the years the Red Cross has been the veteran's standby in nearly every problem that has beset him. Hundreds of Adams countians who were soldiers during the first world war have received courteous, speedy help from the Red Cross in securing valuable records, obtaining information and in general have received probably every service the home service section of the Red Cross provides. Since the start of World War II that service has been multiplied many times to give additional aid to the soldier and veteran.

"The Adams County chapter has had an outstanding record in the work and much of that success is due to the great qualities of kindness and leadership of Mrs. Lewars. The veterans shall always remember her as a great friend."

From Lions Club

The Gettysburg Lions club paid tribute to Mrs. Lewars, as follows:

"In behalf of the members of the Gettysburg Lions club, I wish to express our sincere appreciation of the many years of outstanding service to our community and the entire county in the two decades you have served as county chapter chairman of the Red Cross.

"Under your leadership, the chapter has built a remarkable record of service which has benefited not only this county but the nation and, through its participation in international undertakings, many distant parts of the world.

"You have served with distinction and we salute you as we express our regret at your decision to end many years of unselfish service as Red Cross chapter chairman in Adams county."

$26,000 TO BE DIVIDED AMONG COUNTY UNITS

Adams county's boroughs and townships will have the opportunity to collect $26,000 county aid for their roads this year, according to a letter sent Saturday by the county commissioners' office to all of the borough and township units.

The amount is $16,000 greater than the money available for county aid last year and is the largest "melon" the townships and towns have ever had to divide for road work.

Because the new distribution will be on the basis of the Liquid Fuel Act approved in May, 1945, many of the county's communities will receive larger shares than ever before, while a few small boroughs will fall far below the share they received previously.

Gettysburg will receive $2,072.28, provided it makes application for it, as compared with the $1,000 tops which existed previously. Nearly every other larger borough in the county will also receive a substantial increase in the amount it can receive.

The new distribution is based 50 per cent on a mileage basis and 50 per cent on a basis of population. Previously a rough figure of $1,000 for Gettysburg, $500 for McSherrystown and Littlestown and $250 for the other boroughs was used by the commissioners in dividing the money that comes from the liquid fuel tax.

Acting on the assumption that the townships and towns could use the money to much greater advantage if they knew it was available prior to the setting up of budgets before March 15, the commissioners have mailed a letter to each division pointing out the amount for which the division is eligible under the new method of distribution.

To obtain the county aid the political divisions must make application for it to the county commissioners. Then after completion of the work on the roads and upon the approval of the Department of Highways the commissioners make the payment.

"In order for you to participate in this program you should make application as soon as possible for you must have the work completed and approved by the Department of Highways and paid by the county commissioners before the end of 1946," the commissioners' letter states. "If you do not claim yours, it will be carried over to next year and distributed among townships and boroughs making application."

Last year all divisions except Biglerville and New Oxford applied.

While Gettysburg can obtain the largest share of the $26,000, twelve townships will receive more than $1,000 apiece under the new plan. Franklin township will get the second highest amount, $1,840. Gettysburg's share is based on 6.5 miles of road not maintained by the state and a population of 5,916. Franklin township has 58.90 miles of non-state maintained road and 2,007 population. Third high is Mt. Pleasant township with $1,504.34 as its share.

McSherrystown and Littlestown both fare better than in previous years when they were allowed $500. This year Littlestown's share will be $872.79 while McSherrystown can obtain $762.24. New Oxford, formerly offered $250, can obtain $454.02.

Arendtsville, Abbottstown and Bendersville all lose money under the new basis, with Arendtsville granted $165.73, Abbottstown, $185.53 and Bendersville, $176.62.

ANNUAL SCHOOL REPORT SHOWS DISTRICT FUNDS

Adams county's schools are in better shape financially this year than they have been for decades, according to the annual school directory issued by the office of the county superintendent of schools.

During the past year the fourth-class school districts of the county reduced their debts by $26,412, with two districts completely paying off all debts and 12 others reducing their debts by varying amounts. At the start of the current year 12 districts out of 33 owed $82,108. At the outset of the previous year 14 districts owed $108,520.

If the county districts could pool their resources, the schools could pay off all debt and still have money left over. During the school year 1944-1945 the income of the schools totaled $766,627.27. Expenditures during the same period were $766,366.66, leaving a balance of $260,260.61.

Can Improve Facilities

Much of the balance, the largest in years, will go toward providing new facilities for the county's school children. The excellent position of most of the schools financially will allow improvements, purchases of new materials and books and otherwise will benefit the county's school children, it was pointed out today.

The aggregate balance at the end of the 1945 year was $38,000 more than the balance at the end of the 1944 school year, when a total of $52,403.75 remained. In the 1942-43 school year the balance was $40,875.53.

During 1944-45 the county's public school system received $355,886.15 in state appropriations, $4,444.63 more than during the previous year, according to the school directory's financial summary. The directory was released Saturday by Dr. Robert A. Bream, assistant county superintendent of schools. Largest amount went to Biglerville, $25,842.50, compared with $24,455 for 1943-1944 receipts.

Total school receipts for fourth-class districts in the county are shown as $766,627.27 for 1944-1945 and $748,100.48 for the preceding school year.

New Appropriation Basis

This is the last year that state appropriations will be paid on the old basis. An act of the 1945 general assembly provides that appropriations shall be based on the number of pupils in average daily membership, rather than the number of teachers employed, which will eventually make great changes in the county school system.

A standard reimbursement fraction will replace the 35, 50, 60

DAMAGE SUIT IS ON TRIAL ENDING JANUARY TERM

The Adams county court this afternoon was hearing the last case of the January term, an action in trespass brought by Irving Brier, East Middle street, against Monroe Dellinger, North Stratton street.

Brier is seeking payment of damages to his car as a result of an accident August 3, 1945, when Dellinger is said to have crashed into the Brier automobile about 4 1/2 miles west of Cashtown as Brier was attempting to complete a left turn.

The jury in the action in replevin brought by George Wagaman, Emmitsburg, against Lawrence Rexroth, Littlestown R. 4, was considering its decision at noon Thursday, having retired at 11:25 o'clock Thursday morning.

Finish Criminal List

Wednesday afternoon in the last criminal action brought before the court in the January session a jury spent only 15 minutes in finding Oliver Kuykendall, Jr., Gettysburg R. 5, guilty of assault and battery against Mary Vial, a waitress at Mitchell's restaurant.

Attorney John P. Butt, who has been connected either as attorney for the defendant or plaintiff with every case brought before the court this session, is representing Brier in that action while Keith, Bigham and Markley are representing Dellinger. Mr. Brier had nearly completed his testimony at the start of the trial Thursday morning when the court recessed for lunch until 1:15 p. m.

The jury in the Wagaman-Rexroth case decides the question of whether a young bull was included in a sale of livestock made by Rexroth to Wagaman. According to testimony given by the Emmitsburg resident, Rexroth invited him out to the Rexroth farm to buy some livestock. There Wagaman said, on February 16, 1945, he paid Rexroth $100 for eight white shoats and a small bull. When he returned a week later to pick up the animals Rexroth refused to let him take the bull and tried to return some money for the bull. The Littlestown R. D. farmer's contention is that Wagaman dropped out to the Rexroth farm; that Rexroth and Wagaman agreed to sale of the shoats and that while they discussed the possibility of selling the bull no agreement was reached. He was, he stated, willing to return Wagaman's money when he refused to take the pigs without the bull.

Procession of Witnesses

The jury found Kuykendall guilty on assault and battery at 3:15 Wednesday afternoon. Kuykendall is alleged to have slapped Mrs. Vial about the face "three or four" times with his hat while leaving a booth at Mitchell's. Wagaman denied all charges and brought a procession of about a dozen witnesses who testified that they "had not seen" Kuykendall perform the assault.

The jury on the Wagaman-Rexroth case includes Mrs. Elizabeth Benner, Fairfield; Harry Bittinger, Cashtown; Anna B. Collins, Gettysburg R. 1; Luther W. Epley, Littlestown; Mrs. Myron Mickle, Orrtanna; Miss Emma Myers, Gettysburg R. 5; Mrs. Gladys V. Schwartz, Littlestown; Bruce Sheffer, Biglerville R. D.; E. M. Sites, Gettysburg; R. H. Smith, New Oxford; William Snyder, New Oxford, and Charles Woodward, Gettysburg.

Hearing the Brier-Dellinger case is the following jury: Gilbert Bly, Bendersville; Miss Maude A. Bream, Gettysburg; Martin F. Diller, Abbottstown R. 1; E. H. Fohl, Aspers R. D.; Lester N. Hoover, Abbottstown; Charles C. Little, Littlestown R. 2; Bernard Murren, Hanover R. 4; Walter Rhodes, Fairfield R. 2; Ralph Rohrbach, Hanover R. 3; George Schriver, Bendersville, and Mrs. Buela Zeigler, Gettysburg R. 3.

Following the selection of the two juries for the civil trials Wednesday the remaining 24 members of the January jury were excused by the court.

Pfc. Charles Jacobs To Return To Store

Trained at Camp Howze, Texas, Jacobs spent most of his time as a scout while in the European Theater with the 275th Infantry Regiment, 70th Division, first with the Third army and then with the Seventh.

Uninjured while in battle, he accidentally suffered a bullet wound of the leg in May, 1945, while guarding a German hospital. After 2 1/2 months recuperation in an army hospital he was transferred to the 619th Quartermasters and for the last four months of his stay in the ETO assisted in operating a club for the servicemen there. He was discharged January 18.

Extend Clothing Drive One Week

Extension of the Victory Clothing Collection for one week was announced Thursday by Cloyd Shetter, local campaign chairman, following receipt of notice from national headquarters Thursday morning. Thursday was to have marked the end of the drive for clothing for war sufferers overseas.

Receiving stations will be placed in each corner of center square Saturday to receive additional donations of clothing while contributions continue to be received at the local collection center in the Epley building on South Washington street.

Chairman Shetter asked Thursday that Boy Scouts and members of the Lions and Rotary committees sponsoring the local campaign meet at the Epley building Sunday afternoon to pack the clothing for shipment.

TWO CHURCHES GIVE 750 LBS. OF CLOTHING

Approximately 481 pounds of clothing were contributed by Zion Evangelical and Reformed church of Arendtsville, and 269 pounds by Trinity-Benders Evangelical church, Biglerville, to the current clothing collection sponsored by the Federal Council of Churches in America.

The Arendtsville and Biglerville collections were delivered to the United Service Center, a depot for the Church Committee on Overseas Relief and Reconstruction, at New Windsor, Md., by the Rev. Nevin R. Franz, pastor of the churches. Similar clothing collections have been made elsewhere in the county and sent to New Windsor. A collection was made in Gettysburg in December, under the auspices of the Gettysburg Council of Church Women, in which 1,439 pounds were reported.

At New Windsor all clothing is unpacked, inspected and re-packed for shipment to overseas transport centers. The distribution in foreign countries is handled by representatives of the World Council Service Commission and is made to individuals by church organizations of respective countries, under guidance of commission representatives.

Use College Buildings

The clothing collection will continue until the need for these necessities is fulfilled, perhaps for several years, the CCORR said. Shoes and food are also handled through the New Windsor center. Shoes received with good uppers are half-soled and new heels attached before re-packing for shipment.

The collection offers an opportunity to individuals to use this service in discarding clothing that is no longer needed. The United Service Center is located in the former Blue Ridge college buildings, which belongs to the United Brethren church. Besides a regular personnel of 130 persons, many church groups and organizations give voluntary assistance. A cafeteria is operated for those who work there. Volunteers who would like to help are asked to write Wilbur Mullen, personnel director, United Service Center, New Windsor, Md.

A new high was reached at the center early this month, when the week ending January 5 brought in 65,654 pounds of clothing. The same week five and a half tons of food arrived. On January 8, 245 bales of clothing were shipped to China. The week of January 6 to 11 saw 1,471 cases of food leaving for shipment to the World Council Service at Geneva, Switzerland.

The CCORR has also announced shipment from other points of canned goods, rice from Louisiana and corn from Iowa, Nebraska and Ohio for Italy. Approximately 175 head of cattle left Union Bridge, Md., January 6 for Czechoslovakia and plans were made for shipment of 350 head to France.

The effort to feed and clothe the people in Europe and Asia who have suffered in the past war has found churches of many denominations united in this vast program of material aid, the service center points out. A similar center is established at Modesta, Calif., and CCORR has approved the establishment of 11 processing centers to be located in various parts of the United States; three in the east, one in the south, four in the middle west and three in the west.

Abbottstown Youth Is Hurt In Crash

Robert Meckley, 18, Abbottstown, was injured when the truck he was driving crashed into a tree along the Lincoln highway, several miles beyond West York shortly before 3 o'clock Wednesday.

Some feed spilled onto the highway. State police reported that Meckley apparently swerved to avoid hitting a car which had stopped to make a left turn into the York New Salem road.

An information will be filed charging Meckley with reckless driving, police reported.

LOCAL SCHOOLS PAID $858.75; HEALTH EXAMS

Auditor General G. Harold Wagner has approved payment of $858.75 to the Gettysburg Borough school district. The amount represents the first payment to be made by the state under the provisions of the School Health Act passed by the 1945 Legislature.

The act became effective at the beginning of the 1945-46 school year and is administered under the supervision of the State Department of Health and the State Department of Public Instruction. It provides for the medical and dental examination of teachers, other school employees, and all pupils in grades one, three, five, seven, nine and eleven in public and private schools, so that pupils will undergo an examination not less than once every two years. However, examinations are not compulsory where there is parental objection for specified reasons.

Get Minimum Pay

Physicians and dentists are appointed, or approved by the State Secretary of Health. Physicians are paid at the rate of $1.50 per examination and may not make more than four examinations per hour. Dentists are paid at the rate of 75 cents per examination and may not make more than eight examinations per hour.

In Gettysburg Dr. Raymond F. Sheely, the examining physician, is paid at the minimum rate of $1 per examination and the dentist, Dr. James J. Munley is paid the minimum rate of 50 cents per examination. The difference is used by the school district to pay for nurses, supplies, equipment, etc.

There are more pupils to be examined by Doctor Sheely and a few scattered pupils to be examined by Doctor Munley.

The report for the Gettysburg district shows that 342 pupils and three employees received medical examinations, and 455 pupils received dental examinations.

Department of Agriculture that February 15 is the deadline for the filing of performance reports from farmers who followed practices during 1945 that could result in cash payments from the government.

Applications shall be prepared from reports delayed beyond that date only on recommendation of the county committee and upon approval by the state committee in cases where it is determined that the delay was due to reasons beyond the control of the producer.

Mr. Snyder said that farmers are being advised of this date so that they may contact their local committee members to make reports and have the cash payment applications prepared.

It also has been announced that June 30, 1946, is the last date for a farmer to indicate his intention to participate in the 1946 farm program. ## LABOR CAMP IN COUNTY SOUGHT FOR JAMAICANS

With prisoner of war labor apparently not to be available for 1946, farmers in Adams county are seeking to establish a camp of Jamaican workers somewhere in the county. It was revealed Wednesday morning.

Jennings B. Collins, secretary of the county Emergency Farm Labor committee, reported that efforts to secure such a camp are underway, during his report on the farm labor group's activities given at the annual meeting of the Adams County Agricultural Extension association at Gettysburg high school.

While Jamaicans worked in Adams county last year they were housed at the former Old Forge CCC camp in Franklin county. Because of the serious transportation problem involved in getting the Jamaicans from Old Forge camp to the county the committee said farmers urge the establishment of a camp more centrally located in Adams county.

Divided Opinions—Similar activities to discontinue the use of Old Forge as a home for the Jamaicans working in Adams county were urged early in 1945 but because of the lack of housing facilities the plans were dropped then.

Despite the great need of Jamaicans, farmers reported mixed success in using them as farm hands. Mr. Collins said, "Some of the farmers who used Jamaican labor were not very well pleased with the way they performed. They were very hard to control and at times some of them were very undesirable to work with," the labor committee secretary reported. "On the other hand, there were other farmers who were well pleased with their work and got along very well. All reports we received from employers of prisoners of war were that they were entirely satisfactory."

Prisoners To Leave—The prisoner of war camp here which supplied more than 500 prisoners for farm work will in all probability be non-existent for the coming harvest. The prisoners of war were scheduled for shipment back to Germany sometime in February, but that date has now been moved up to April. Whether any further extension of their stay in the U. S. will be made is still problematical.

During the 1945 season the Farm Labor office established by the farm labor committee helped 140 different farmers to secure labor and placed 3,222 workers on county farms.

Members of the farm labor committee include Robert C. Myers, Hanover, chairman; Mr. Collins, H. S. Stoner, Allen Walter, Robert C. Loft, vice chairman; J. W. Luca-baugh, Roy Heckenluber and H. F. Snyder.

Doctor Lewis spoke on control of apple scab, cedar rust, brown rot and similar plant diseases while Mr. Steiner outlined control measures for the peach borer, plum curculio, mites and codling moth as tried during the last growing season here. ## SPEAKER TELLS OF MIGRATIONS, CHURCH DUTIES

The second of a series of lectures sponsored by the Gettysburg Council of Church Women was held in Trinity Evangelical and Reformed church Wednesday night. Rev. Howard Schley Fox was in charge of the devotions with Miss Alice Snyder at the piano.

Mrs. Ralph R. Gresh introduced Dr. Harry F. Baughman, professor of the Art of Preaching at the local seminary, who spoke on the topic, "Change and Decay in All Around I See," being a presentation of the national missions problem.

He opened his lecture with the statement "Our way of life has changed so materially from the horse and buggy days so often referred to by the late President Roosevelt that a whole new change of thinking is required." Under his first heading of "Mobility" Dr. Baughman cited the move from urban to suburban and outlying districts at the rate of one-half to a million people annually, accentuated by "depression period, escape idea, fear of inflation, economic freedom and better environment for children." He stated there is also a movement from country to city caused by the desire "for a status supposedly more desirable, glamor of city life, opportunity, educational opportunities and chance for greater wages, which may fail to materialize, once there. Then there is a concentric movement to industrial areas caused by war periods, wages, etc., and the movements of the migrant workers to harvest seasonal crops."
